GRIEF & LOSS CENTER

"I can think of no other edifice constructed by man as altruistic as a lighthouse. They were built only to serve." George Bernard Shaw

Note from Nancy

"I called on the Lord in my distress and He answers me."
Psalm 120:1

When I am talking for the first time with someone experiencing the pain of fresh grief, I can hear in their voice that they are in distress by what has occurred in their lives. Distress is extreme anxiety, sorrow, or pain. One cannot function, or think clearly. Feeling paralyzed, not even able to accomplish simple tasks. Grief does that to even the strongest!

I love that the Psalmist gives a very simple and powerful solution.....call on the Lord and He will answer. He can do for us what we cannot do for ourselves. A very simple plea..."God Help Me!!" will bring the most powerful force in the universe into your situation.

I am so grateful that God continues to use the Lighthouse for New Hope to bring children and adults out of their distress.

Giving X 100 Men's Group

Thanks so much for board member, Eric Dahlberg and Giving X 100 Men's group for supporting the Lighthouse for New Hope with a BIG check for $4000 in May. You are truly making a difference in kids lives!!!!

Lighthouse Featured in DFW Child Magazine

In February an article was published about How To Comfort a Grieving Child With Special Needs in DFW Child Magazine. Writer Misty Jackson-Miller came out to the Lighthouse in November to gather information for her magazine article. It is an excellent article and featured the Lighthouse for New Hope. Spanish Adult Support Groups

This summer we started offering for the first time a support group in Spanish for adults. Our adult death loss curriculum has been translated into Spanish. This has been a great need in our community and so grateful for Dulce Alonso and Kayla Pinales helping to make this happen.

If you know of someone that might benefit from this please send them to our website. Or call 972-226-3110 and ask to talk to Dulce to get them enrolled in the fall groups.
